Russia's New Offensive Culminates in Capture Of 10,000 Prisoners

Storm Village Of Konichy And Take Strongly Fortified Points South Of Brzezany On Galician Front—For Two Days Rain Of Iron Thrown Into German Positions—Slav Troops Face Bitter Opposition From German, Austrian And Turkish Troops—Little Activity On Western Front.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
Prisoners exceeding 10,000 and the capture of the village of Konichy and strongly fortified positions southwest of Brzezany are the first fruits of the new offensive movement of the Russian forces in eastern Galicia. North of Konichy the Russians have attacked and fresh battles are in progress. The Russian artillery, long inactive from lack of shells, played an important part in the defeat of the Austro-Germans at Konichy. For two days a rain of iron was thrown into the German positions and Berlin says officially that they were turned into a crater field. The Russians not only carried three lines of German trenches and Konichy, which was strongly fortified, but also advanced to the Konichy stream south of the village, which is on the Zlota Lipa river. Around Brzezany the fighting was most bitter, and Berlin claims that sixteen Russian divisions were thrown forward. The Russians carried the fortified Teuton positions at several points in face of a desperate resistance by Austrian, German and Turkish troops.

On the western front there has been little marked activity. Both the British and Germans have carried out raids in the area around Lens and northward.

In the Trentino, south of Riva, the Austrians have attacked Italian positions between Lake Garda and the Ledro Valley. Rome reports that all the Austrian efforts were checked with loss.

Description of Advance
PETROGRAD, July 2.—Russian troops have captured Konichy, on the Galician front, together with 14 officers and 1000 men, the war office announced today.
The Russian announcement says that the Russians have advanced to the Konichy stream and have captured seven heavy guns. Teuton prisoners continue to be brought in.
The number of prisoners taken in the various sectors of the front is more than 10,000. Southwest of Brzezany the Russians occupied strongly fortified positions of the enemy.

The statement says that some of the Russian detachments suffered severe losses, especially in officers.

Enemy Knows Attack
The official announcement read as follows:
"Western (Russian) front: In the direction of Kovel (Volhynia) in the region of Rudakovichskaya, our troops, under command of four officers, after destroying the wire entanglements by mines, penetrated the enemy's trenches, killed some of their occupants and captured a number of prisoners. According to the testimony of prisoners, the Austrians knew of our attack from two deserters. Senior Non-Commissioned Officer Karasinski and Private Kozlov. An investigation is being made by the authorities of the governments to which the soldiers named belonged.

"In the direction of Zlochoff, after two days' artillery preparation, our troops attacked the Austro-German positions on the Konichy-Byski front. After a severe engagement the fortified village of Konichy and advanced to the Konichy stream to the south of the village of the same name.

Over 8,000 Prisoners
"As a result of the engagement on Sunday 164 officers and 8,400 soldiers have been counted so far as prisoners. We took also seven guns and seven machine guns. Prisoners continue to come in.

"Southwest of Brzezany, after artillery preparation, our troops attacked the strongly fortified positions of the enemy and after stubborn fighting occupied them at places. Germans and Turks made counter attacks and formidable positions changed hands constantly.

"On Sunday we captured on this front nine officers and 1700 German soldiers and 1700 German soldiers. Some of our detachments sustained severe losses, especially of officers.

"Altogether on Sunday we took 173 officers and more than 10,000 soldiers. We also captured seven guns and seven machine guns.

London Chimed
LONDON, July 2.—The resumption of the Russian offensive, with the capture of the town of Konichy, and more than 10,000 prisoners, is the most cheerful news the British have had for some weeks. References in the official statement to the communications to the activity of the Russians had given hope that something really serious was about to occur, but the public was hardly prepared for such immediate and successful results, as it was thought it would take a few days for the artillery to destroy the Austro-German defenses which were under construction for so many months.

The scene of the Russian success, between the Strips and Zlota Lipa rivers, was the battleground of much heavy fighting after General Brusilov's offensive of a year ago, Konichy being on the latter river.

This, like the other demonstrations, is in the direction of Lemberg, the capture of which would be of the greatest strategic and political importance. General Brusilov apparently has resumed his concentric manoeuvre, which was interrupted by the advent of winter and then by the revolution.

Hard Fighting at Lens
LONDON, July 2.—As the result of hard fighting west of Lens yesterday and today our advanced posts have been driven back a short distance, says the official report from British headquarters in France, issued tonight. There is nothing further to report except artillery activity by both sides at numerous points along the front.

Kerenky at Front
PETROGRAD, July 2.—The brilliant Russian advance, the news of which had sent a wave of rejoicing through the entire country, was led by War Minister Kerenky in person. For the last four weeks he has been later has been continuously at the front, spending every effort to urge

75 LIVES LOST IN RACE RIOTS EAST ST. LOUIS

Torch Applied To Four Negro Settlements—Property Valued At $3,000,000.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, July 2.—In race riots which occurred in East St. Louis, Ill., today the death list may reach 75, according to the latest estimates, and the property loss, it is believed, will reach $3,000,000. The torch has been applied to four negro settlements in the city, and the glare of the flames illuminates the city and surrounding districts.

The rioting is a recrudescence of race troubles that occurred a month ago, following the importation of large numbers of negro laborers from the south to work in the East St. Louis packing houses.

The rioting began after a white man had been shot by a band of negroes. A mob which quickly gathered applied the torch to rows of negro dwellings, and the glare of the flames illuminates the city and surrounding districts.

KERENSKY'S MESSAGE

PETROGRAD, July 2.—M. Kerenky, minister of war, telegraphed Premier Lvoff today that the Russian revolutionary army resumed the offensive on July 1.

In his message to the premier the war minister says:
"On July 1 the army of revolutionary Russia took the offensive with great enthusiasm. The offensive proved to Russia and the entire world its fidelity to the revolution and its love for liberty and its country. Ignoring the small groups of cowardly souls, the free Russian soldiers are conquering by their offensive a new discipline based on the sentiment of civic duty."

"Whatever may happen, this puts an end to all slanderous attacks against the democratic Russian army. I beg of you to authorize me to hand to the regiments which participated in the fighting on July 1 red revolutionary flags and to give them the name 'Regiments July First.'"

Premier Lvoff granted the requests.

"WE SHALL NOT BE TRAITORS"
PETROGRAD, July 2.—The commander of the armies on the western (Russian) front has issued an order of the day reading:

"Our army on the southwestern front has vanquished the enemy and broken his lines. A decisive battle has begun on which depends the fate of the liberty of the Russian people. Our brothers on the southwestern front are advancing victoriously. They need our assistance from us. We shall not be traitors; the enemy shall hear the thunder of our guns."

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS DEDICATED Historic Ceremony At Ottawa As Memorial To Confederation Fathers.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
OTTAWA, July 2.—Half a century of progress, growth and development under the auspices of confederation was commemorated with simple but appropriate ceremony on Parliament Hill today. Simultaneously, and in a befitting accompaniment of the historic occasion, the new and stately pile of the parliament buildings, in course of construction, was formally dedicated as a memorial to the confederation fathers and to the valor of Canadians at the front.

The specially-constructed dais and the building was festooned gaily with the Union Jack, the American flag and other allied flags. There were speeches by the Duke of Devonshire, Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, patriots adorned by a massed choir, with band accompaniment, and a military march past.

When the Duke of Devonshire concluded his speech he touched a button which caused the unveiling of the memorial tablet of the occasion in what is to be the Hall of Fame.

His Excellency, who arrived promptly at noon, was received with military honors. The band played the National Anthem and the chorus sang "Rule Britannia."

The following is the inscription executed in North English on one side and in French on the other:
"July, 1917. On the fiftieth anniversary of the confederation of British colonies in North America, the Dominion of Canada, the parliament and people dedicate this building, in process of reconstruction after damage by fire, as a memorial of the deeds of their fathers and other valorous Canadians who, in the great war, fought for the liberties of Canada, of the empire and of humanity."

INVESTED IN D.S.O.
LONDON, July 2.—(C. A. P.)—At Buckingham palace on Saturday the following Canadian officers were invested with the Distinguished Service Order:

Lieut.-Col. Charles Templeton, Lieut.-Col. John Warden, Major John Jenkins, Major Terence Jones.

The following officers were decorated with the Military Cross: Lieut.-Col. Ewing, Capt. Robert Lutton, Capt. John MacGregor, Lieut. John Carling, Lieut. Francis Gray, Lieut. Porteous, Lieut. James Gray, Lieut. James Power, Lieut. Major W. White.

LOOKED LIKE BOOM TIMES
Judging from the crowds and the loaded trains on Monday night it was difficult to believe that many citizens had remained in London to celebrate the long trains of eleven and more coaches pulled in with their precious freight, and apparently standing room only was exhausted, as the passengers disembarked from the baggage cars and other available places of like nature. The excursion trains from Alberta Beach were literally packed with happy holiday makers alighted, and as the trains departed, one could imagine that three or four years had rolled back and boom times had come back once more.

VENICE BOMBED BY PLANES; ITALIANS RETORT ON TRIESTE
Believed Two Hun Raiders Were Hit—No Victims Adriatic Seaport.

ROME, July 2.—Venice has again been attacked by Austrian airplanes, the war office announces. The Italians raided Trieste and Chioggia (the last two are towns near Venice) on Friday night. Bombs were thrown on houses. There were no victims. Anti-aircraft batteries bombarded the airplanes vigorously and there is reason to believe two raiders were hit.

"By way of immediate reprisal Italian seaplanes bombarded the industrial quarters of Trieste."

EXPLANATION HUN'S LATEST OFFENSIVE

Government In Need Of Some Successes To Offset British Victories.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
LONDON, July 2.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Telegraphing today from French headquarters, Reuter's correspondent says that the sudden return of the enemy to the offensive on the Chemin-des-Dames and on the left bank of the Meuse is probably to be explained by the German government's need of victories, or rather local successes, which can be magnified into victories to offset the substantial gains of the Anglo-French offensives.

At the moment when the inspired prose in the Fatherland is trying to explain away the latest British successes in Flanders, and knowing that more must come requiring further explanation, and also knowing the fact that the suspension of the German army is already on French soil—comprehension of these things is spreading among the German army and the people—the high command feels that something must be done to counterbalance the effect of all this. In any event, there is not yet any indication that behind the sudden resumption of activity lies any more serious intention.

Both in Le Mort Homme and the Cerny sector, the enemy, in the event of success, stands to win important local advantages, notably in the latter, where he has been able to exploit the Chemin-des-Dames crest, to retain which he fought so hard.

By the operations of yesterday and today the enemy regained a very important footing on the crest about a mile west of the Dragon's Den, from which he expelled last Monday.

The small gains the enemy hitherto secured were obtained by means which either save him employment at will, and which, of course, result in temporary advantage to the side which secures them.

It is a case of heavy concentration of artillery against a narrow front, followed by an infantry attack. The value of such acquisitions lies in the power to retain them solely, and the enemy has not yet been shown to possess this power. Hitherto he has been able to annex narrow belts of front without depth.

If he is continuing in the slightest degree on the decline of fighting spirit in the French army, he is counting without his host.

VENIZOS Ministry Purging The Public Service Of Sympathisers With Germans.

ATHENS, July 1, via London, July 2.—The first day of the Venizelos ministry was occupied with the painful but necessary duty of purging the public service of the Germanophile regime. A number of prefects were removed, four admirals retired, and ten officials of the foreign office were informed by the police that they were to be removed from their posts.

Notable was the action taken against the Holy Synod, which was told that, pending the decision of the government, the members of the clergy, relations must remain in suspense. The metropolitan, who conducted the anathema ceremony against Venizelos in December, was certainly resigning. The government of the country is to remain only in trusted hands.

About fifty arrests of officers of the army and navy took place today. Most of these arrests were largely of a preventive character. The majority will probably be released later. Half a dozen more serious arrests were made by the French command, including two officers concerned in a treacherous attack on the allied troops in Athens, December 1.

The situation is becoming so stable that M. Jonnart is leaving Athens shortly, and Venizelos has ordered all the general commanding officers from the Peloponnese to appear before him immediately at Athens, with the double object of ensuring the fidelity of the troops in the peninsula and settling the details of their transfer to the mainland. Most of the officers already Venizelos replied that they are coming at once. Venizelos has ordered all the officers and men to take the oath of allegiance on Sunday. By this act the hitherto divided army will be considered unified.

CALGARY FAIR

Exhibition Demonstrates Supremacy Of Province In All Branches Of Industry.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
CALGARY, Alta., July 2.—The fair here this year demonstrates clearly the absolute supremacy of Alberta in livestock, dairying and every branch of the livestock industry.

In Clydesdale horses, the prizes for stallions 4 years and over went to Ben Finlayson of Olds, A. L. Dollar of High River and Bredt and Company, carrying off with three splendid animals the first three prizes. "Edward Garnett," winner of the first prize in this class, was also winner of the Clydesdale stallion.

Thorburn and Riddle carried off the stakes for champion female Clydesdales and for grand champion female. The Herefords led all classes this year in point of numbers, value and quality.

George Lane was the chief winner of the Perthshire class, with a winning of thirty head. George Lane and Company, of Namaka, won for the best five stallions, any age.

A splendid showing of Herefords and shorthorns included in the formers class two animals shown by Alberta and Saskatchewan breeders that have cost their owners $25,000. Frank Collicutt, owner of the famous $11,500 "Gay Lad," and George Fuller, of Girvin, Sask., with the $17,000 bull, "Martin Fairfax," which is the highest priced bull in America.

In shorthorns Yule and Bowes, of Carstairs, J. G. Barron of Carberry, Man., John Graham of Carberry, Man., and J. Miller of Ashburnham, Ont., had big bids and carried off the prizes.

Downfall of Spanish Monarchy Believed Only Matter of Days

Leading Parties In Nation Have Formed A Republican "Bloc"—Monarchist Reformist Party Of Senor Alvarez Has Altered Traditional Position And Favors Revolutionary Change—"Spain Is On Eve Of Important Events," Says President Of Short-Lived Republic—Army Dissatisfied; Masses Discontented.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
LONDON, July 2.—Spain appears to be in the throes of a revolution. In well-informed quarters here it is believed that the fall of the Spanish monarchy and the rise of a republic in its stead is only a matter of days, perhaps hours.

This view is justified by the latest development in Spanish politics, the leading parties in the nation have formed a republican "Bloc." The Radicals and the Socialists decided to issue a revolutionary and anti-monarchist manifesto, after having constituted themselves into a "Bloc." In addition to these parties, the Monarchist reformist party of Senor Alvarez, one of the most powerful Spanish leaders, changed its traditional position and came out in favor of a republic. So strong is the republican tide in Spain that King Alfonso's abdication is spoken of as a distinct probability.

Confirmation from Paris
PARIS, July 2.—The situation in Spain, far from improving, seems to be going from bad to worse. The gravity of the crisis is confirmed amply by such news as reaches Paris. The Madrid correspondent of the Petit Parisien, telegraphing Sunday, says that the internal situation seems to indicate that conditions are far from normal.

Er. Oristo Salmeron Y. Garcia, president of the short-lived Spanish republic, who has just arrived from Spain, also takes a serious view of the situation there. In a statement published in the Petit Parisien he says that he is convinced Spain is on the eve of important events.

Three Causes
There are three causes of discontent—the dissatisfaction of the army, the dissatisfaction of the democratic parties and the unrest of the masses. These circumstances have given rise to all sorts of comment, many persons feeling that the king and queen should have had serious news, but nothing so far has confirmed this view.

Two Important Facts
Great importance is attached in political circles to two facts: First, that the king and queen cancelled an engagement to attend a polo game; second, that a special cabinet meeting was held at the conclusion of which Premier Dato went to the palace and had a long conference with the king. These circumstances have given rise to all sorts of comment, many persons feeling that the king and queen should have had serious news, but nothing so far has confirmed this view.

Lord Rhondda Declares His Intentions—Will Want Larger Powers.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
LONDON, July 2.—Lord Rhondda, the food controller, speaking at Cardiff, said he had a suspicion that Premier Lloyd George, who had conscripted him for the post, was not much against his will, chose him for an almost impossible job, after so many better men had refused, because he knew that he had the hide of a rhinoceros.

"I am going there," he added, "and let there be no mistake about it, as guardian and trustee of the consumer, and particularly the poor consumer."

Lord Rhondda said he was not satisfied with the powers he had, and he was going to take more powers. He is determined to put a step in this class, and he is forcing an order which he warned his hearers that it was impractical to bring down prices to anything like the standard before the war.

Royalty Attends Service In Westminster Abbey—King, Queen, Queen-Mother.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)
LONDON, July 2.—(C. A. P.)—The Dominion Day observance in the Abbey of Great Britain's most illustrious dead. We humbly commemorate before these the fiftieth anniversary of the Dominion of Canada and all Thy many mercies multiplied upon its people. We dedicate to Thy great glory the memory of our dear brother the departed Prince of Wales, who with Thy loving mercy, the offerings of Thy brave lives. Grant unto them Thy Eternal peace, and unto all that mourn the blessing of Thy comfort.

No words could more fully describe the purport of today's great assembly in Westminster Abbey than those of the above prayer, recited by the dean in the circles of the service.

From the windows of the building overlooking the abbey's great west door, the building where fifty years ago confederated Canada was born, two hundred widows and mothers of Canadian soldiers who now lie buried in the field of honor beheld the arrival of the king and queen. The Canadian flag hung from the abbey's towers. In the space beneath the bayonets of the guard of honor, chosen from several Canadian battalions, gleamed in the morning sunlight.

"It might be a Dominion Day celebration in Canada," remarked one of a little crowd that lingered in the cloisters.

The congregation, in its entirety, was in the best sense representative, and Princess Patricia arrived early. Queen Alexandra, Princess Victoria Presently fanfare and distant cheering came to the waiting congregation. His Majesty, with the queen on his right, preceded by the abbey dignitaries arrived. Sir George Perley, with General Sir Richard Turner, immediately followed their majesties.

The service opened with "O Canada," followed by the "Lord's Prayer." LONDON, July 2.—(Canadian Associated Press)—Six hundred Canadian soldiers and nurses attended solemn mass and thanksgiving in Westminster cathedral Sunday in celebration of the jubilee of confederation. The congregation included Sir George Perley—Col. Godson Godson, representing Gen. Sir Richard Turner.

Social Side of City Life

EDITED BY MISS MARION SEMOUR

PERSONALS, MEETINGS, CLUB ACTIVITIES, WEDDINGS AND SOCIAL EVENTS

Mr. Billy Hogg went to his camp at East Wabamun on Saturday.

Mrs. Herbert Chadwick opened her cottage at East Wabamun on Saturday and has as her guest Mrs. Robert Hockley.

Right Rev. Bishop Grey was a guest at the hotel at Wabamun over Sunday. Bishop Grey conducted the dedication service at Rexboro Sunday afternoon of a new belfry and bell, which was given to the Rexboro church in loving memory by the mother of Laurence Hall Walker, who was killed in action in his 23rd year. The service was very impressive and the church was well filled.

Mrs. Sydney Ellis and son, Jack, went out to Lake Wabamun on Saturday for over the holiday and were joined there on Monday by Mr. Ellis.

Miss Emily Davis visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. Dan Davis, for the week end and the holiday at East Wabamun.

Miss Barnes was a week end guest at Gainford, visiting her parents, returning to town Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Richelt and Mrs. Richelt's mother, Mrs. J. Pate-man, with Mrs. and Mrs. Thiroux and family, have taken the Hamilton cottage at Moonlight Bay for July and August.

Miss Carthew spent the holidays with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Carthew, at Wabamun.

Mrs. J. R. McIntosh and family left the city on Saturday for their cottage at Lake Wabamun.

Mrs. Ross and her daughter, Miss Florence Ross, spent the week end and the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Webster at their cottage at East Wabamun. Mr. and Mrs. Webster returned to town Monday night.

Mrs. J. C. McIntyre, 9638 107A avenue, received word yesterday morning of the death of her brother, Pte. J. W. McGillis, who was killed in action on June 19th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. C. Hill returned to the city on Saturday night, after having spent a most enjoyable holiday at California. Mrs. Hill's sister, Miss Edna M. Neagles, who stayed with friends on 14th street while Mrs. Hill was in the south, has now gone to reside with her again on 125th street.

At Wabamun a Red Cross tea was held by the Red Cross Circle, which has been organized comparatively recently, the success of which was largely due to Mrs. Charles Taylor and her mother, Mrs. Wilfrid Campbell, who is visiting from Toronto. The building in which the tea was held was most tastefully decorated by

MANY WAYS OF IMPROVING SUMMER FAIRS TO AID WOMEN

In a paper by Miss E. Cora Hind, of Winnipeg, she makes some very pertinent suggestions as to ways in which to improve the summer fairs in the little ways that will be especially appreciated by women. She says:

"Speaking broadly, I think that so far as men visitors are concerned, there is not much to do to attract them. There are plenty of good things for them to see, and they are pretty comfortable in seeing them. They have the physical strength to push their way into the seats in the grandstand; they can sit down in any kind of a restaurant booth, and if they are tired they can lie down on the grass with their hats over their eyes and nobody will call them in question nor subject them to unpleasant remarks."

A Complicated Matter.
"The making of women comfortable is rather a more complicated matter. In the first place, every fair manager aims at having a large attendance of women from the farms, and they not only want but encourage the bringing of children, and without wishing to criticize any one fair, I think up to the present time the accommodation for women and children at all of them is inadequate. Take the women who come in from the fair grounds, but the rank and file of the women from the country do not stay at the best hotels. A very large proportion of them stay in private houses, and the smaller and less expensive hotels and boarding houses, and when they leave these places in the morning to go to the fair, they do not wish to return before night."

Therefore, on the fair grounds they should have ample accommodation in which to make themselves and their children comfortable. While still more urgent is the need of the women and children coming in on one day excursions. There should be large and pleasant rooms apart from merely toilet accommodation, and to quantities of gorgeous wild flowers. Many of the campers and holiday visitors dropped in at the tea hour and enjoyed a delicious cup of tea and home-made bread and cake."

Mrs. James Brooks has left the city for Vancouver, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Captain McNeil. She will afterwards go to Victoria, Seattle and other coast cities, returning the first of September.

SOUTH SIDE DIARY

The annual picnic of the Sunday school of the Presbyterian church will take place on Saturday afternoon, July 7th, at the Riverside Park.

Mrs. B. L. Toombs is much improved after her recent illness and returns home this week.

Rev. E. Val Tilton leaves today for Vancouver, where he will visit his father, and expects to be gone two weeks.

At the end every one of our large fair grounds should as speedily as possible erect a women's building. It is not necessary for me to go into details of what this building should include, because all the managers present have seen the women's building at the Iowa state fair, which, according to reliable testimony, is the best of its kind on any fair ground on this continent.

Substitute Suggested.
"It may not, however, be possible for any one of our fairs to erect such a building in the immediate future, and I would therefore suggest as a temporary substitute the erection of rough temporary buildings or tents at two or three different points in the fair grounds, within convenient distance of the toilet accommodation provided for women. There should be a woman in charge of each of these places, and if the various organizations in the city are interested, I think it would be quite possible to get them to make these rest rooms places where little talks could be given on subjects specially of interest to women, and at any rate have women from various organizations there each day to meet and talk with those who come to rest. I do not mean that these women should be responsible for the care of the tent or room, but simply that they be there as hostesses."

"These rooms should be provided with comfortable chairs and a supply of fruit juice. A woman who has been walking about for hours would enjoy the balance of her day tenfold if, for half an hour, or even fifteen minutes, she could stretch flat on her back and rest."

Beginnings Already Made.
"I know that tentative beginnings along this line are to be found at nearly all the fairs, but I am simply laying emphasis on the need of more accommodation of this kind, and that it be conveniently located and marked with signs that can be seen from a distance; and at one or two of these rest rooms there should be something in the nature of a little shop. I believe that any dry-goods house would be glad to furnish such accommodation for the sake of having their name on it, and, to prevent heartburnings, it might be alternated between different firms."

"This little shop should carry hair pins and hair nets, pins and safety pins, cheap combs and brushes, cheap towels and a few cheap shirtwaists and generally the odds and ends which women want for emergencies, and which they would be thankful to buy and make use of on the grounds for themselves and their children."

Near these resting places should be located the kindergarten and creches for the children, in charge of reliable women, preferably trained nurses. "I was very much struck with the arrangement along this line at Saskatoon last summer, where the tents for this work were located in front of a nice shady poplar grove. I passed and re-passed, and saw many of the future citizens happily engaged in filling pails with sand and emptying them again, while their mothers were taking in the fair in peace and comfort."

Leave After Luncheon.
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—I have been invited to attend a luncheon on a day when I have a second engagement a half after 3 o'clock. The luncheon will be at half after 3 o'clock and will be surely over by 4 o'clock. Would it be possible for you to leave a short time after luncheon is finished? What is the etiquette in this matter?
SALLIE.

It is customary to remain for at least one-half hour after luncheon, but if you explain to your hostess that you must keep a previous engagement, and, therefore, must leave a little earlier, you can do so. But it would not be polite, should the luncheon be delayed, to leave sooner than ten or fifteen minutes after. I think I would try to change the half after 3 engagement to 4 o'clock, as the luncheon might easily last two hours.

Economy of Home Bread Baking.
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—Can you give me satisfactory directions for baking white wheat bread at home? I am told I can save money by this. Also, if you can give me a recipe for whole wheat bread I shall be obliged.
INEXPERIENCED.

The first method of baking white wheat bread, the short process, is as follows: For one loaf of bread pour one cupful of boiling water, scalded milk or a mixture of the two into a mixing bowl over one teaspoonful salt, one tablespoonful sugar and one tablespoonful lard or other fat, if fat is desired. Allow the mixture to cool until it is lukewarm. Mix one-half cake compressed yeast with one cup of the lukewarm fluid and pour it into the other mixture. If liquid yeast is substituted for the compressed sort the ingredients should consist of one cupful of sugar, one cupful of lard, one cupful of milk, water or milk-water mixture and the quantities of the other substances already mentioned.

If convenient, set the mixture of yeast, liquid, salt, sugar and fat aside in a warm place, not more than 86 degrees Fahrenheit, for an hour before adding the flour. If not convenient to set the mixture aside add the flour at once, putting in a little at a time and kneading until the dough is of such consistency that it sticks neither to the bowl nor to the hands. This requires about ten minutes. After the flour is added cover and allow to rise one and three-quarter hours at a temperature of 86 degrees; it may be better to set it at lower temperature, but the lower the temperature the longer the time required for the rising. Cut down the dough from the sides of the bowl, grease the hands slightly, knead a little and set aside to rise again for one hour. With a good bread flour the dough should triple its bulk in each rising. With a soft wheat flour it should not rise much beyond twice its volume. Divide into portions, mold and place in greased pans of standard size (one and a half quarts). Allow to rise until a light touch will make a slight dent. With good bread flour this happens when the dough reaches the top of the pans. Bake fifty minutes.

Whole-wheat or graham bread—One and a half cupfuls lukewarm milk, three tablespoonfuls brown sugar, one and a quarter teaspoonful salt, three cupfuls whole-wheat or graham flour, one-half yeast cake. Scald the milk, together with the sugar and salt. When lukewarm add the yeast, mixing it first with a little of the milk. Add the flour, beat well and let it double its volume. Beat it thoroughly, put into a pan and let it rise. In a pan of standard size it should come nearly to the top. The above recipe may be used in preparing bread from home-ground meal. There are many households, particularly in the country, where

THE WOMEN'S EXCHANGE
In accordance with requests made by a number of readers, The Bulletin has decided to run the questions and answers the same days in future in this department instead of as at present giving the answers on the day following the questions addressed to this department of the Bulletin will be given the most careful attention.

TODAY'S INQUIRIES.

1. What causes fruit, vegetables and grapes are rich in pectin, which is necessary for the transformation of fruit juice into jelly.

2. What is the proper attire for men when attending a formal breakfast?
A man can wear either a sack suit or a cutaway when attending a formal breakfast.

3. Should women remove their hats when attending a breakfast?
Women should not remove their hats when attending a breakfast.

4. Is it usual for guests to linger long after breakfast?
Guests should not linger after a formal breakfast as they do after luncheon or dinner.

Use of Bleaching Lotion.
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—Some time ago you prescribed a lotion consisting of glycerin, rose water and lemon juice for whitening the skin. Will you please tell me how it should be used—in the morning or evening? Should it be rubbed in or let dry, or should it be washed off? How often should it be applied?
The lotion should be applied after bathing, preferably at night, and allowed to dry in. Two or three times a week will be sufficient.

To Destroy Roaches.
To the Editor of Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—How can I destroy roaches? Driving them away only sends them to another house and does not solve the problem.
(Mrs.) W.

Famous Women
Charlotte Perkins Gilman
This is the birthday of Charlotte Perkins Gilman, great granddaughter of Lyman Beecher and grandniece of Henry Ward Beecher and Harriet Beecher Stowe. She was born in Hartford, Conn., in 1869, and lived in that city, as well as in San Francisco, during her girlhood days. She was married twice. Her first husband was Dr. W. Stetson to whom she was wedded in 1884. Her second husband was G. H. Gilman, whom she married in 1900. Mr. Gilman is descended from Edward Everett Hale. Mrs. Gilman has made a name for herself because of her broad interest in human activities. Her first came before the public in 1891, when she engaged in a series of public lectures on ethics, economics and sociology. She is the author of several important works on sociology and has written articles for magazines and for the daily press.

Today We Celebrate

American Naval Victory at Santiago.
Two battered masses of rusty iron rising out of the sea off the Cuban coast near the village of Juan Gonzales are memorials of the victory of the American fleet under command of Admiral Sampson over the Spanish squadron commanded by Admiral Cervera on July 3, 1898. The anniversary of this victory will be particularly keen in the minds of the Americans. The project of raising the monument which was defeated by the skill of the gunners of the American ships. The Viscaya and the Almirante Oquendo sank after being shattered by shells and otherwise damaged by flames. The project of raising the monument was brought up several times. It was found, however, that the condition of the vessels was such that salvaging them would be useless, as they are today just so much junk. So for nineteen years the sea has been allowed to batter them. The only reminder of war that the broken hulks still bear is a turret, its guns sticking into the air, which still defies the elements. This was one of the large guns aboard the Viscaya. It was during the battle of Santiago that Admiral Sampson, mindful that a gallant foe was going to his death, said to his sailors: "Don't cheer, boys. The poor devils are dying."
Lord Cochrane's Protest.
A very interesting document, probably the only one of its kind in the world, reposes in the archives of the Royal United Service Institution in London. It was forwarded to this institution some years ago by the governors of the Bank of England. It is a one thousand pound bank note which Lord Cochrane paid for his release from prison in 1814. The note bears the following endorsement: "My health having suffered by long and close confinement and my oppressors being resolved to deprive me of property or life, I submit to robbery to protect myself from murder, in the hope that I shall live to bring the delinquents to justice." This document was signed, "Cochrane, Grated Chamber, King's Bench Prison, July 3, 1815."
Rear Admiral Lord Cochrane, M.P., was imprisoned on a false charge of swindling in connection with the Berenger frauds. After being in jail a year, Lord Cochrane, at the request of his friends, paid his fine with the above mentioned bank note, which had been subscribed for by the public in two cent subscriptions.

TUESDAY, JULY 3, 1917.

EVIDENTLY NOT.

The Norwegians are said to be "appalled" at the German plot they have discovered to destroy Norwegian ships by placing explosives in the coal bunkers. The only surprise people of other countries will experience is that the Norwegians should be appalled at any sort of outrage they may find the Huns guilty of. Have the Norwegians not been reading the papers during the past three years?

WHY NOT DO IT?

A committee of the United States Senate proposes to prohibit absolutely the manufacture and exportation of distilled spirits during the war, and to give the president power to prevent the manufacture of wine and beer. Prohibition to the "bone dry" degree is thus fairly in prospect as one of the war measures of the United States. Canada could save a good many millions of bushels of grain and a good many millions of dollars for better use by adopting similar means.

A FLEET "IN BEING."

Speaking in the House of Commons on June 5th, Hon. Mr. Fisher, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, said:

"After the war there will possibly have to be a very general change in regard to the departments of Government, and probably this House will have to consider the desirability of having a naval department standing by itself, with a separate minister entirely apart from the minister who administers the Department of Fisheries."

In other words, the Canadian navy is a fact, and will remain a fact.

NO EXEMPTIONS.

This war is not over yet. There is no telling what demands will have to be made upon the manpower of the country to reinforce the army we are creating. Every able-bodied man in Canada may be in the trenches before we are through with the Huns. If under threat of rebellion in Quebec men are conscripted in Western Canada to make up a shortage in Eastern Canada, what will be the attitude of the "slacker provinces" when the demand comes or reinforcements for the army are still trying to create? If they are allowed to shift a part of their duty onto others now, they will be encouraged to do it in future also. If the issue has to be fought out that all parts of Canada shall do their "bit" in proportion to their ability—not in preference—we may better fight it out now and be done with it. The slacker provinces should be called upon to make good.

PENALTY AND A SHAM.

A tax on all incomes amounting more than three thousand dollars per year is Sir Thomas D'Alton's suggestion in response to demand for the expropriation of excess war profits.

A Canadian should want to re-allocate an income of magnitude at a time when his country needs the money, and sympathy will be excited by who object to the imposition of the income tax as a war measure for revenue purposes.

At an income tax of this sort is any sense an expropriation of excess war profits. It would equally upon the man who has made nothing out of the war, and upon the man who has been putting into war funds all his income over and above the cost of keeping his family.

As a revenue measure in war time the proposed income tax is entirely proper. But in relation to the demand for the expropriation of excess war profits it would be simply a penalty imposed on the innocent as well as the guilty in hope that it would be mistaken for what it was not.

A VOTE FOR THE NORTH.

The people of Peace River stand for the settlement and development of the northland. They also realize that the only way to promote that cause is to support the Government which stands for it.

THE COUNTRY NOT AT FAULT.

Sir Robert Borden adjures the Canadian people to maintain their purpose and their effort to help save themselves and civilization. Sir Robert need have no misgivings on that score, at least so far as Western Canada is concerned. And his colleagues tell us that the eastern provinces would have done their bit, too, if he had not called a halt in the recruiting campaign, and that they would still make good if he gave them a reasonable chance. It is neither patriotism nor resolution—nor scolding—the Canadian people lack, but inspirational leadership. If Sir Robert will supply the leadership the country will supply the men and the money.

SLACKERS FIRST.

Canada will put its promised half million men in the field. Canada will also back up that half million with reinforcements so long as there are men in the country who can be spared to military service without doing more harm than good by crippling the production of food and munitions. If the provinces which have hitherto failed to supply their proportion of the half million army will not do so, the other provinces will. But it is due to the people of these other provinces that the slacker provinces be first singled out by name, told plainly that they are in default, and called upon to provide their contingents. If they refuse there will be but one thing to do. But until a real attempt is made to get them to supply their quotas it is nonsense to say they will not do it.

DEMANDING THE IMPOSSIBLE.

The statement given out by the food controller deserves attention not only for what it says, but for what it does not say. The latter phase of it particularly deserves the attention of the controller himself. Nowhere in the statement does he intimate that he has any hopes, plans or intentions of trying to control the prices of articles of food, so as to eliminate profiteering. This silence is in accord with Sir George Foster's claim that prices cannot be regulated enough to make it worth while to try; but it is to be hoped that the silence does not indicate an intention not to try, but simply means that the controller has not yet got around to that phase of the subject. There has certainly been a hope on the part of the public that the controller would not simply tell people not to eat so much or what to eat, but that he would also originate regulative measures which would enable them to eat as much as they need and still have part of their hard-earned income left. And unless he does so, his advice as to what they shall eat must fail largely of effect. The substance of his present advice is that we should eat perishable foods, and thus leave the other kinds to be sent overseas. Eminently sensible advice, but can it be done? The controller assumes that the public can pick and choose as to what they shall eat. The fact is that people now eat not what they would like to eat, or what it is nationally important that they should eat, but what they can get to eat. For some reason or reasons the prices of foods have shot up to a point which has taken the initiative out of the hands of the consumer. He cannot afford to eat what his country wants him to eat, but has to take what the price-makers will let him eat, whether or not it is to the advantage of the country that he should eat something else. For example, Mr. Hanna urges us to eat fruit and vegetables in season, and thus leave meat and grain for the soldiers and the overseas peoples. And every Canadian who is worthy the name is willing to do it. But what is the use telling people to eat strawberries in season at forty cents per box and leave a much cheaper sort of food for use elsewhere? They simply can't do it. And this single example illustrates the condition all along the line; the condition that they have to eat what they can afford, not what Mr. Hanna wants them to. If his advice is to produce results he will have first to make it practically possible for people to live up to it, by some system of price regulation.

SHALL THE PEOPLE RULE?

The question involved in the Laurier amendment for a referendum is not conscription, but enfranchisement. It expresses no opinion on the question of conscription. It is clear on the question of enfranchisement. The people of Canada have been disfranchised in regard to national questions since October, 1916. The Government announces that its majority in the Commons and Senate will be used to continue that disfranchisement until October, 1918. The Laurier amendment declares for the enfranchisement of the Canadian people in regard to the question of conscription overseas service. The question before the House of Commons is not "Shall there be compulsory overseas service?" but "Shall the people rule?"

ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Bulletin to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner. To receive answers, send name and address of the questioner. This information is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Standing at 1911.

To the Bulletin: What was the standing of the parties in the Commons before the 1911 election?

A. T. G. Edmonton.

There were 132 Liberals and 35 Conservatives and 4 Independents. At the 1908 election the popular vote was Liberal, 547,664; Conservative, 563,547. The total vote cast for independent candidates was 24,893.

The Public Libraries.

To the Bulletin: I would be glad if you would kindly, through your paper, give us some information as to how the Public Libraries of this city are managed. Am I right in saying they are managed by a Library Board? If so, how and by whom are the members of the board appointed and to whom are they responsible? Also, what control have the aldermen over the board and in what way can the city council exercise any influence over the monies expended by the board? I would be glad also if you would kindly supply the names of the present members of the board.

NORTH EDMONTON.

The public libraries of the city are managed by a Library Board, the members of which are appointed by the City Council, and this, although the Board administers its own affairs, makes it indirectly responsible to Council. The present members of the Board are: Dr. R. G. Macdonald, L. A. Groulx, Ald. J. MacDonald, L. T. Barclay, P. W. Abbott, and G. A. McKee. The last-named gentleman acts as treasurer and E. T. Hill, the librarian, is secretary to the Board. Mayor Henry is ex-officio member of the Board.

The libraries were originally constituted by putting into force the Public Libraries Act, which means that after petitions had been presented to the Council asking for a public library, a bylaw was framed and passed to govern the working of the institution and the issue of debentures to cover the cost of sites and buildings. Under the Act, Council has the power to set aside one mill of the total assessment for library purposes and the Library Board has the right to ask for this amount.

So far as the Edmonton libraries are concerned the south side library was constituted under the old city of Strathcona, the site being donated to the city and there is a debenture issue to cover the cost of the buildings. On the north side the Act was put in force some time before the library was actually formed, although a site was acquired on McDougall Drive, fronting the river between McDougall Avenue and 101st Street. The property includes some residential buildings and there was a debenture issue on this property. Nothing has yet been done in the way of putting up library buildings on the north side, the library at present being housed in rented premises on 102nd Street.

With regard to the control of the Board's expenditure by Council, this is effected by the City Comptroller who audits the accounts of the Board. Also in another direction the city can exercise control, as although the Board has the right to ask for the one mill assessment, yet Council could refuse to pay over the amount until it had actually collected the money, which in these days of tax arrears might place the Board in a rather awkward predicament.

To wreck our commonwealth, will rue the day

When first they challenged freemen to the fray,

And with the Briton dared the American.

LEGAL INQUIRIES

Legal questions will be answered in the columns of The Bulletin after being submitted to The Bulletin's legal representative. Write on one side of the paper only. Be brief. Send stamped envelope for reply.

To the Bulletin Legal Department:

Will you please explain through the question columns of your paper the safest and most businesslike method to put off a land mortgage (delivering the money), having mortgage papers and title delivered and mortgage released.

A SUBSCRIBER.

The proper way to pay off a land mortgage is to tender the amount due to the mortgagee or his agent. A legal tender would be either in dominion or bank notes or in gold. After tendering the amount due the mortgagee should require the mortgagee to hand him the duplicate copy of the mortgage with the discharge. The duplicate mortgage and discharge should then be sent to the land titles office for the registration district in which the land is situated with a request that the registrar discharge the mortgage and send the title to the owner.

To the Bulletin Legal Dept.: In January, 1910, I let a man have some money at 10 per cent. interest, and took a mortgage on some land in another province. I have never saw, but neglected to have it registered. Is it any good, or has it run out? Is there any way which I can collect it? He keeps telling me he will do something, but I want to do something that I can do without too much expense. He has 20 or more head of cattle and a number of horses; also a script of 320 acres, but it is mortgaged to him. A READER.

The fact that you did not have your mortgage registered does not affect your claim against the man in any way, but your neglect may have affected your claim to the land, that is to say, if some one else has acquired a registered interest in the land your mortgage will be subject to their interest. You had better have the title searched at once and if the land still belongs to your debtor have the mortgage registered itself or have it registered by means of caveat.

As you did not say in what province the mortgaged property is situated we do not know just what would be the best action to take. It would look as though you had better sue at once on the personal covenant but you had better take the matter up with solicitors before deciding just what steps you will take.

With The Humorists

Bittersweet.

"A m I good enough for you?" sighed the fond lover.

"No," said the girl, candidly, "you're not, but you are too good for any other girl."

Looked Bad.

Howard: "Do you believe in signs?"

Coward: "Well, I don't know! The fire alarm went off some times while the minister was preaching Wildways funeral sermon."

In Their Class.

His height was only just about five feet, but he had a great big heart in his little body, and consequently when the recruiting officer turned him down he was more than a little upset.

"What's the matter about me 'light'?" he queried crossly.

"I was no bigger nor me!"

"Oh, I know that," answered the recruiting officer, with a smile. "But then, you must remember that Lord Roberts was a field marshal."

"Well," retorted the other indignantly, "what about it? I don't mind joining that lot!"

Learning How.

Little Helen: "Daddy, I have been playing like I was mama."

Dad: "Is that so? What did you do, dear?"

Little Helen: "I bought you a nice present and had it charged to you."

ARREST OF THREE STOPS SHIPMENT OF POISON DRUGS

Chicago Police Hold Trio That Imported "Dope" From This Country

Chicago, June 30—Government agents believe they have discouraged systematic importation of habit forming drugs from Canada in the arrest of three men here, alleged to have been the agents who disposed of the smuggled goods. A railroad employee, it was said today, made regular trips to the Dominion for the drugs. The men under arrest gave the names of Harry C. Ralston, and Victor and Carl Modine, brothers.

225 SALOONS CLOSING.

Sioux Falls, S.D., June 30—With the closing of saloons throughout the state at nine o'clock, tonight South Dakota for the second time will enter the column of prohibition states of the nation. It is estimated that approximately 225 saloons as well as numerous wholesale liquor houses and breweries will suspend business.

Premier Crop Prospects.

From Lethbridge Herald: The Winnipeg Free Press tells us that Southern Alberta again has the premier crop prospects of Western Canada. We all know it, but it's nice to have it repeated by the leading crop authority of the west.

HOW?

(From the New York Sun)

Great Britain will be finished in two months, says Herr von Heydebrand. The question is whether this will be accomplished by killing babies or by verbal duffiness and hot air barrages.

It is a system that must go. The Romanoffs have gone. William Hohenzollern stands on his lonely pinnacle a solitary insult to freedom. He will go, too. (From the Detroit Free Press)

Prussia and Russia are furnishing modern examples of an old rule, the rule that safety lies in the golden mean and that carrying even the best of principles to extremes leads to fatal consequences. Prussia has developed more than any other nation the supremacy of the state. The state is all, the individual is nothing. In Prussia, therefore, Prussia has become a menace to the world and the world unites to destroy her. Russia has suddenly turned into a nation where individualism is supreme. Each man in Russia considers himself a law to himself now. There is no loyalty to the state, no idea that the individual should deprive himself of something he desires because the general good requires it. Russia is at the other extreme from Prussia, and Russia also is fast becoming a danger. The nations united against France when France was what Russia is today. They may yet unite against Russia, if they will unite against her unless she changes her ways. Each extreme is perilous. Too much state centralization and too much individualism both have their dangers. If humanity could but keep to the middle course in everything and avoid extremes of all kinds, how much happier the world would have been in history!

Need of Wealth Conscription.

From the Calgary Albertan: One Calgary man is said to have paid $2,000 for joy rides in a few months. People who do not quite understand the meaning of conscription of wealth might study that incident and come to their own conclusion.

Dangerous Precedent.

From the Calgary News-Telegram (Conservative): It is announced from Ottawa that, in spite of the constitutional violation that is involved in the putting into effect of a compulsory military measure without either general election or referendum, the Liberals propose to "agree" with the Conservatives to an extension of parliament. If such a course is assumed by the Government, either with or without the assistance of the Liberals, it will constitute one of the most dangerous precedents ever placed on the parliamentary records of Canada. Under ordinary circumstances The News-Telegram is not desirous of seeing a general election; but, in the face of the most extraordinary nature of the legislation now before parliament, an extension is absolutely unpardonable. And any such breach of our constitution will most assuredly lead to trouble. It would seem as if the independent sentiment of this country will have to clean up the reactionaries in both the present political parties in Canada before the politicians at Ottawa will be brought to a stern realization of what they are really doing.

Action Wanted.

From the Calgary Herald: There is no getting away from the fact that the department of labor has not dealt with this mine situation in a way that commands confidence or respect on the part of the people. For weeks the whole Canadian west has been suffering because of lack of coal. Breaking outfits have been held up, industries have been put to inconvenience and the grim spectre of a famine next winter has been ever before the people.

With patience that has seemed more like procrastination the department of labor has been dawdling along threatening to do something drastic, yet all the time going over old ground again and again in an effort to evade the necessity for drastic action. To the people on the spot it has been evident for weeks that nothing short of a miracle could bring the contending parties together in harmonious working relationship. That the miracle would happen no one dreamed, unless it was the department of labor officials.

Two thousand miles away, the talk of has been taken and the people have been led to expect prompt handling of the situation, they are again kept in suspense by the story that the commissioner is still trying for the miracle.

Labor and Conscription.

From the Calgary Albertan: Here is a case in point: For the last half-year of 1916, the Canadian Pacific railway had a surplus of revenue over working charges and fixed charges of nearly $25,000,000. The surplus of earnings over working expenses for the year was $54,476,499. The profits of the C.P.R. in the year 1916 exceeded the profits of the previous year by $21,000,000.

Notwithstanding these facts, the C.P.R. has asked the railway commission for an increase of 15 per cent. upon the freight rates. That will mean additional profits of more than $20,000,000, which must be borne by the Canadian consumers. And the chairman of the railway commission indicates that the application will be granted.

The increased charges upon all the freight, if granted by the commission, will mean an additional burden of more than $30,000,000 per year.

Behind the
FootlightsGOOD ALL ROUND
HOLIDAY SHOW AT PANTAGES

A holiday crowd, in a holiday spirit, saw a holiday show at the Pantages yesterday. A bill of sterling merit was presented. The various acts were clever and they were clean. There was nothing that had to be exhibited in a low, green light in order to counteract the rosy blushes of the audience. To begin with, the Curzon sisters, who do things while suspended by their teeth in midair that most of us would find difficult in doing gracefully upon the ground, have a really unique stunt. The "butterfly" dance is particularly good and the top spinning is a great feat in gyration that makes one giddy just to look at it.

Harry Devise and Belle Williams, old friends here, received a hearty welcome and a lot of new stuff. The retail lot of comedy stuff in "The Travelling Salesman and the Female Drummer," and Miss Williams' ample charms are reinforced by a most infectious laugh. It is a flirty hearted curmudgeon who could resist it.

Morgan and Wiser can do unbelievable things with hats. They must have caught and tampered with hats very young in order to be able to make them perform the tricks we saw last night. Hats are thrown out into the audience indiscriminately, chucked back and caught on their owners' heads with uncanny skill. For a wind-up one of the performers hurls a whole bunch of hats up into the flies and they all settle neatly upon their individual pegs on a waiting hat rack. Educated hats, what!

Harry Coleman is another Edmonton favorite, with his manikin and prison drop and a lot of new stuff beside. Smoking a cigarette, taking a long, stage drink and carrying on a long ventriloquist dialogue is one of them. This is one of the acts that the children especially enjoy.

"The New Producer," described as "A Grand Opera Cocktail," is one of the by-products of the war. It illustrates how is now possible for opera stars who formerly remained in the east to visit lesser communities. Selections from all the old, familiar operas were given in fine style and the audience applauded wildly. In fact they insisted on an encore and in response the company gave the "Death of the Swan." The whole was a very well arranged and selected program, effectively put on.

The pantomime, as usual, was devoted to military activities in the United States for the most part. The comedy film was of an early vintage, reminiscent of the day when the photoplay was young and the plastic pie and the crushable crockery were the acme of humor. It palls now. This, however, as set against the general excellence of the Pantages show, is a negligible matter.

PhotoplaysPublic men tell of current attractions on the screen in Local Picture
HousesMON DIEU! PETROVA WORE CORSETS WHEN NERO WAS A YOUTH

The stage and the screen are indebted to Mme. Petrova for many impersonations that will live long in the memory of the theatregoers, not only because she is a beautiful woman, but also because she possesses abundant talent, stage presence and knows how to dress her part. In her latest screen impersonation, and incidentally, her first for Lasky and the Paramount Corporation, she has been transplanted from Egypt of 2000 or so years ago. To a woman of Mme. Petrova's ability and excellent stage record such a faux pas is unwarranted. If it doesn't happen again we may forget it this time, but next time—

Aside from this one mistake, "The Undying Flame," is an altogether pleasing picture. The story is not particularly new or novel, but it is interesting and the costumes and settings are gorgeous in the extreme, a detail the Lasky company seldom overlooks. The ancient scene, perhaps the most attractive, although considerable care has been exercised in staging the distinctly modern portion of this feature.

For the most part Mme. Petrova's support is capable, although few of the principals in "The Undying Flame" are known to most photoplay fans.

ENTREPRENEUR—"The Last Man" which opened a three day engagement at the Empire theatre yesterday, is another production of the greater titanic which commends itself to Edmonton people. William Duncan and Mary Anderson continue the remarkably good work that has dominated their careers, and have roles that are particularly well suited to them. The program is rounded out by a Chaplin release, "A Gentleman of Nerve." Mr. Duncan was born in Dundee, Scotland, though he moved early with his parents to America. His early youth was mixed between study and sport, and he finally leading him into professional channels. Later he distinguished himself as a writer on the staff of the Physical Culture Magazine, following which he opened a studio in Philadelphia, where he taught members of the Quaker City's Foremen's Society. Finally the stage lured him and he scored many successes behind the footlights. Like other legitimate players, however, he found the camera's call too strong to resist, and he joined a Chicago film producing company in the capacity of leading man, scenario writer, director, and later combined that of manager with his other duties. Mr. Duncan has written, produced and played the leads in over a hundred of his own scenarios. His characterizations have ranged from leads in society drama to the roughest of western pictures, in which he was compelled to ride bucking bronchos, and he soon became proficient in all manner of western sports. Since joining the Vitaphone company Mr. Duncan has added materially to his reputation as a leading man by his manly life and daring stunts in such pictures as "The Man from the Desert," "A Child of the North," "Anne of the Mines," etc. In "The Last Man," however, Mr. Duncan is ideally cast, and his friends will be delighted with his masterly production. Major Harvey, a surgeon of the United States army.

MAJESTY—The Majesty Theatre presents Violet Mersereau, the daintiest of screen queens in the latest Bluebird success, exciting episodes galore. In "Little Miss Nobody," at the Majesty theatre today, Violet Mersereau will present upon the screen a character similar to those which Maggie Mitchell, Lotta and Patti Ross formerly brought to the stage—a hoydenish child, full of life and vivacity, springing from obscurity and always landing, cat-like, on her feet and in the happiest circumstances. In present her character—a village waif, maid of all work who finds happiness in a most unexpected quarter—Miss Mersereau will be assisted by an excellent supporting company, headed by Sidney Mason and Clara Heyers.
